

Eero Hämeenniemi is a Finnish composer, pianist and writer. He has just retired from the position of Artist Professor, but continues to work as a Docent at the Sibelius-Academy (of the University of the Art).

Eero has composed music in all of the major genres of European Classical music. He also works as a pianist performing with some of the leading personalities in the field of free improvisation. He also has a long standing working relationship with many well-known Indian musicians.

Eero has written 8 books dealing with music and Indian culture and translated Classical Tamil language poetry from the original.